STORY LINES

NEW HORIZONS - The New Mexico Goatheads officially begin their inaugural season on Friday, October 16, welcoming the Idaho Steelheads to the Rio Rancho Events Center for the first game in franchise history. Led by first-year Head Coach Zack Stortini, the Goatheads enter their debut season as the ECHL affiliate of the Colorado Avalanche and Colorado Eagles. On the other side, Idaho enters its 29th season with an established winning tradition under Head Coach Everett Sheen. The matchup marks the beginning of a new Mountain Division rivalry, with the two teams scheduled to meet 12 times throughout the 2026–27 regular season.

WORTH THE WAIT - The Goatheads will look to capitalize on the energy of a sold-out Opening Night crowd as professional hockey returns to New Mexico for the first time in 17 years. The state has been without a professional hockey team since the New Mexico Scorpions ceased operations following the 2008–09 season. With more than 6,000 fans expected to welcome the Goatheads to the ice, led by Stortini, New Mexico will look to establish an early physical presence, feed off the crowd's energy and build momentum against an experienced Idaho squad. Captain Derek Daschke and the Goatheads' leadership group will play an important role in setting the tone as New Mexico looks to secure its first victory in franchise history.

EXPERIENCE - The Steelheads enter Opening Night looking to build on a strong 2025–26 campaign that saw them finish with a 42–23–6–1 record and 91 points, earning a second-place finish in the Mountain Division before falling to the Allen Americans in the opening round of the Kelly Cup Playoffs. Idaho averaged 3.49 goals per game last season, ranking fifth in the ECHL, and returns 15 players from last year's roster, including Ty Pelton-Byce, Jade Miller and Liam Malmquist. Under Sheen, who enters his seventh season behind the bench with 257 career victories, the Steelheads will look to use their experience, offensive depth and established chemistry to quiet the Opening Night crowd and spoil New Mexico's historic debut.

ZACK STORTINI

HEAD COACH | FIRST SEASON | RECORD WITH NMG : 0-0-0-0 (.000)

Zack Stortini enters his first season as head coach of the New Mexico Goatheads in 2026–27, leading the organization into its inaugural ECHL campaign. Stortini brings a wealth of professional hockey experience to New Mexico, including more than 850 combined games played in the National Hockey League (NHL) and American Hockey League (AHL), along with coaching experience at both the professional and major junior levels. Known throughout his playing career for his physical style, toughness and leadership, Stortini will look to establish a competitive identity for the Goatheads as the franchise begins its first season as the ECHL affiliate of the Colorado Avalanche and Colorado Eagles.

Prior to joining the Goatheads, Stortini spent four seasons as an assistant coach with the Tucson Roadrunners of the AHL from 2022–23 through 2025–26. During his tenure, Tucson compiled a 141-116-26-5 regular-season record and qualified for the Calder Cup Playoffs in three consecutive seasons from 2022–23 through 2024–25. The 2023–24 Roadrunners recorded 43 victories, the most in franchise history, and finished with a .639 points percentage. Stortini also helped develop several NHL prospects, including Michael Carcone, who led the AHL with 85 points in 2022–23, and Josh Doan, who earned AHL All-Rookie Team honors in 2023–24.

Stortini began his coaching career with the Sudbury Wolves of the Ontario Hockey League (OHL) in 2019–20. He spent his first two seasons as an assistant coach before being elevated to associate coach for the 2021–22 campaign. Following three seasons in Sudbury, Stortini joined Tucson in August 2022, marking his first professional coaching position.

Before transitioning into coaching, Stortini enjoyed a 14-year professional playing career that included 860 regular-season games across the NHL and AHL. Originally selected by the Edmonton Oilers in the third round (94th overall) of the 2003 NHL Entry Draft, the Elliot Lake, Ontario native appeared in 257 NHL games with Edmonton and Nashville, recording 14 goals, 27 assists and 725 penalty minutes. He also appeared in 603 AHL games, totaling 109 points (55 goals, 54 assists) and 1,825 penalty minutes. Stortini captured two Calder Cup championships during his playing career, winning with the Hamilton Bulldogs in 2007 and the Charlotte Checkers in 2019. He reached the Calder Cup Finals three times, including an appearance with the Milwaukee Admirals in 2006.

Known as a physical, hard-working forward, Stortini developed a reputation for his leadership both on and off the ice. He led the AHL with 299 penalty minutes during the 2013–14 season with the Norfolk Admirals and was recognized three times with his team's IOA / American Specialty AHL Man of the Year Award for his community involvement, earning the honor with Lehigh Valley in 2015, Binghamton in 2016 and Charlotte in 2019. Stortini now brings that combination of championship experience, player development and leadership to New Mexico as the first head coach in Goatheads franchise history.
