HOCKEY OPERATIONS BIOS

Head Coach & General Manager Rick Kowalsky

Rick Kowalsky was named the fourth head coach in Mariners history on Aug. 6, 2025, bringing 20 years of experience coaching in professional hockey, most recently as head coach of the AHL's Bridgeport Islanders. Prior to his time in Bridgeport, Kowalsky worked his way up the coaching ladder in the New Jersey Devils organization, rising all the way from the ECHL to the NHL. He secured his first head coaching job with the ECHL's Trenton Titans in 2006, spending four seasons there before being elevated to the head job with the AHL's Albany Devils in 2010. He was named AHL Coach of the Year in 2016. After eight seasons with New Jersey's AHL club (including his final season in Binghamton), the Devils moved him to the NHL bench to become an assistant coach in 2018, where he'd spend three seasons. Kowalsky is in the ECHL Hall of Fame (class of 2017), was a two-time ECHL All-Star, a Kelly Cup champion and named ECHL Coach of the Year in 2009. A native of Simcoe, Ontario, Kowalsky played three seasons with the Portland Pirates from 1996-99, posting 72 points in 108 games

HOCKEY OPERATIONS BIOS

Assistant Coach Zach Tolkinen

The first captain in franchise history, Tolkinen was named Assistant Coach under Terrence Wallin in August 2024, and retained under Rick Kowalsky. An ECHL veteran of over 450 games, “Tolks” sported the “C” for the Mariners over their first two seasons from 2018-2020. The 34-year-old was born in Lino Lakes, MN and played collegiately at Quinnipiac University, before making his ECHL debut for the Elmira Jackals in 2014. Along the way, Zach also played for the Missouri Mavericks, Rapid City, Rush, and Wheeling Nailers. He spent his final playing season with the Fort Wayne Komets in 2021-22.

Equipment Manager Brian McQueen

McQueen joined the Mariners in September 2021 after three years in the SPHL with the Knoxville Ice Bears. He was named SPHL “Equipment Manager of the Year” in 2020. A native of Boston, MA, McQueen moved to Missouri where he attended the University of Central Missouri, earning a degree in Sport Management, and where he played inline hockey as a part of the NCRHA. He also gained experience in the ECHL as an equipment intern for the Kansas City Mavericks in 2017-18. Since 2015, Brian has also spent time working for the Kansas City Chiefs during their training camp, as well as a full season in 2017. Brian currently lives in Biddford.

Athletic Trainer Patrick Sponzo

Patrick Sponzo became the Mariners Athletic Trainer in October of 2023, following the departure Matt Salmen for the AHL. A native of Windsor, CT, Patrick was the head athletic trainer for the Greensboro Swarm, the G League affiliate of the NBA's Charlotte Hornets in 2022-23. He's also worked in the collegiate ranks at The College of the Holy Cross, the University of Hartford, Stony Brook University, and Florida Gulf Coast University. He earned his Bachelor's of Athletic Training at Lasell University in 2016.

AFFILIATE INFORMATION

NHL Affiliate: Boston Bruins

The pride of professional hockey all throughout New England, the Boston Bruins are one of the National Hockey League's most prestigious franchises. An "original six" team, the Bruins are the third oldest active NHL organization and the oldest in the United States. The B's are six time Stanley Cup champions, most recently in 2011. The current partnership with the Mariners began 2021, but the AHL edition of the Mariners were also Boston affiliates from 1987-1992, before moving to Providence (more on that below). The 2025-26 campaign marks the fifth season of the modern Bruins/Mariners affiliation. In February of 2024, forward Justin Brazeau became the first player to climb the ECHL to NHL ladder from Maine to Boston, when he made his NHL debut for the Bruins.

Assistant Coach: Chris Kelly, Jay Leach

AHL Affiliate: Providence Bruins

You could say that hockey in Portland has come full circle, with the new Providence affiliation, as the P-Bruins are the former AHL Maine Mariners. Boston moved its AHL affiliate from Portland to Providence following the 1991-92 season, ending the 14 year run of the original Mariners. Providence, like Portland, has a rich history of minor league hockey, having hosted the Providence Reds (now the Hartford Wolf Pack) for five decades from 1926-1977. The Bruins lone Calder Cup championship came in 1998-99 after winning 56 games in the regular season. They were led that season by future Stanley Cup winning coach Peter Laviolette. The P-Bruins have made it to the last 11 Calder Cup playoffs, finishing top three in the Atlantic Division in five of the past six seasons

HISTORY & TIMELINE

It was officially announced that professional hockey was making a triumphant return to town in June of 2017 when Comcast Spectacor purchased the ECHL membership of the Alaska Aces and relocated it to Portland, Maine. With Philadelphia Flyers brass Paul Holmgren and Danny Briere at the helm, the Mariners were “re-born” in September 2017 when they got their name, winning in a fan vote and paying homage to Portland’s first pro hockey franchise. A full timeline of the events leading up to the rebirth of professional hockey in Portland is below, and continues on the next page with a list of significant events up to present day:

June 15th, 2017: Comcast Spectacor announces its purchase of the ECHL membership formerly known as the Alaska Aces and its intention to move the franchise to Portland, Maine and the Cross Insurance Arena.

September 29th, 2017: The Mariners get their name after beating out the Lumberjacks, Watchmen, Puffins, and Wild Blueberries in a fan vote.

February 17th, 2018: Riley Armstrong is announced as the first head coach of the Mariners.

April 9th, 2018: The Mariners announce their first affiliation with the NHL’s New York Rangers and AHL’s Hartford Wolf Pack.

August 15th, 2018: Beacon The Puffin is revealed as the Mariners’ mascot.

October 13th, 2018: The Mariners host the Adirondack Thunder in the inaugural ECHL contest in Portland. Jason Salvaggio scores the first goal in franchise history at 10:29 of the first period. A crowd of 5,291 witnessed the game.

October 21st, 2018: After losing their first 3 games, the Mariners get their first win in franchise history, defeating the Newfoundland Growlers, 4-2 at the Cross Insurance Arena.

March 10th, 2020: The Mariners fall to the Norfolk Admirals, 3-2 at home, in the final game before the COVID-19 pandemic cancels the remainder of the 2019-20 ECHL regular season and playoffs.

November 18th, 2020: The entire ECHL North Division, including the Mariners, opts out of the 2020-21 season, due to the pandemic. Fourteen of the twenty-six teams participate in the season.

June 30th, 2021: The Mariners announce a new affiliation agreement with the Boston Bruins.

August 3rd, 2021: Ben Guite is named the second head coach in Mariners history after Riley Armstrong accepts a job in the AHL. Terrence Wallin is named assistant coach.

October 22, 2021: After 591 days without hockey, the Mariners return to the Cross Insurance Arena and open the season with a 6-3 win over the Worcester Railers. University of Maine alumnus Eduards Tralmaks registers a hat trick in his Mariners debut.

April 20, 2022: The first playoff game in team history is played at Santander Arena against Reading. The Royals win it, 3-2.

July 27, 2022: Terrence Wallin is named the third head coach in team history following Ben Guite's departure for Bowdoin College.

October 22, 2022: The Mariners achieve their first ever sellout, as 5,386 fans witness a 3-2 loss to the Trois-Rivieres Lions.

April 2, 2023: On the same day that they clinch a berth in the Kelly Cup Playoffs, the Mariners win their 38th game of the season, setting a new franchise record. They defeat the Tulsa Oilers, 5-2.

April 14, 2023: Terrence Wallin is also promoted to General Manager.

April 14, 2024: Needing a victory to make the playoffs, the Mariners rally from a 3-1 third period deficit at Adirondack to win 4-3 in OT, with Alex Kile scoring the dramatic game-winner.

July 23, 2024: The Mariners announce that Dexter Paine has reached an agreement to acquire the franchise from Comcast Spectacor.

August 15, 2024: Former Mariners defenseman/captain Zach Tolkinen is named Assistant Coach.

December 31, 2024: Former Portland Pirate and now 40-year-old forward Derek Whitmore debuts with the Mariners and scores the game-tying goal in the third period against the Trois-Rivieres Lions.

April 13, 2025: The Mariners set a new franchise attendance record, as 6,361 turn out for Fan Appreciation Night, the 11th sellout of the season.

PORTLAND HOCKEY HISTORY

The Original Maine Mariners (1977-1987)

Professional hockey in Portland has a rich history, dating back to the 1970s, when the original Maine Mariners were brought to town by the same franchise that owns the modern Mariners, the Philadelphia Flyers. The “first” Mariners began play in the 1977-78 season as the AHL affiliate of the Flyers and played their first game in Portland on October 15th, 1977. The Mariners took the league by storm, winning the Calder Cup after a 43-28-9 regular season and defeating the New Haven Night-hawks for the title. They followed up the impressive feat by repeating as Calder Cup Champions the following season, going 45-22-13 and taking down New Haven once again in the finals. The Mariners are still the only franchise in AHL history to win the Calder Cup in each of its first two seasons.

Prior to the 1983-84 season, the Flyers sold the affiliation to the New Jersey Devils, and the Mariners pulled off more “first year” magic, winning their third Cup, despite the franchise’s first regular season losing record (33-36-11). They defeated the Rochester Americans in the Calder Cup Finals to capture their third championship. It also marked their fifth finals appearance in seven seasons of existence.

Maine Mariners, Second Franchise (1987-1992)

Following the 1986-87 season, the Devils relocated their AHL franchise to Utica, NY, opening the door for the Boston Bruins to take geographical advantage of the Portland market and place their top affiliate in town – an AHL expansion franchise. The Bruins preserved the team name and its logo, making only a color scheme change from Flyers black-and-orange to Bruins back-and-gold. Remarkably, it appeared that the Mariners might pull off yet another first year run to the Cup, finishing with the best record in the North Division (44-25-7-4), but they were ousted by the Fredrickton Express in the Division Finals. The 1987-88 season would be the only successful one for the Bruins iteration of the Mariners, who failed to finish above .500 or make the playoffs in any of their four preceding seasons. After the 1991-92 campaign, the Bruins moved the franchise to Providence, Rhode Island, where it still operates today. The last Maine Mariners AHL game took place on April 4th, 1992.

Portland Pirates (1993-2016)

After just one season without hockey at the Cross Insurance Arena, the Washington Capitals moved their AHL affiliate from Baltimore, Maryland to Portland, and the Pirates were born. Enjoying tremendous success on and off the ice right away, the Pirates did what only the Mariners could do before them, and won the Calder Cup in 1993-94: their first season. Barry Trotz, head coach of the 2018

Stanley Cup Champion Washington Capitals served as the bench boss, leading the Pirates to a 43-27-10 regular season mark and a six-game victory over the Moncton Hawks in the championship series. Trotz would serve as head coach until 1997. The Pirates returned to the Calder Cup Finals in 1995-96, but lost to the Rochester Americans in seven games. Although the Pirates would remain in Portland for ten more seasons, they would never make a return to the finals.

In the summer of 2005, the Pirates switched parent clubs from the Capitals to the Anaheim Ducks, an affiliation that would last for three seasons. In 2008, a new relationship began with the Buffalo Sabres that would last through the end of the 2010-11 season, after which the Sabres reunited with Rochester. The move ushered in the Phoenix Coyotes era, which spanned four seasons. During what would be their final season in Portland (2015-16), the Pirates were affiliated with the Florida Panthers. On May 4th, 2016, it was announced that the Pirates had been sold with intent to relocate the franchise. Less than two weeks later, the move to Springfield, Massachusetts became official.

Maine Mariners, ECHL (2018-pres)

Pro hockey returned to the Cross Insurance Arena in 2018-19, two seasons after the departure of the Pirates. Brought back to Portland and initially owned by Comcast Spectacor from 2018-2024, the Mariners were purchased by New England born businessman Dexter Paine in time for its sixth season (2024-25). For the first three seasons (the third of which the Mariners did not play due to the pandemic), the Mariners were affiliated with the New York Rangers and Hartford Wolf Pack. The Bruins affiliation was announced on June 30th, 2021, with the partnership entering its fifth season in 2025-26.

The Cross Insurance Arena, built in 1977, hosts a variety of concerts, family shows, conventions and sporting events. The Cross Insurance Arena was also home to the original Maine Mariners as well as the Portland Pirates. Following the 2011-12 hockey season, work began on an eventual $33 million renovation project which included, but was not limited to: additional seating, locker room upgrades, added bathroom facilities, and an expanded box office. Additional renovations were made in the summer of 2024, including a brand new rink system and the switching of the bench and penalty box sides. The Cross Insurance Arena is owned by Cumberland County and operated by Oak View Group (OVG) which provides venue management and partnerships services. The Cross Insurance Arena capacity totals 6,365.

ABOUT THE ECHL

Year founded: 1988

Headquarters: Princeton, New Jersey

Commissioner: Ryan Crelin

Number of teams: 30

Length of season: 72 games

Most recent champion: Trois-Rivieres Lions

Founded in 1988, the ECHL is the “Premier AA Hockey League,” boasting 29 teams across the U.S. and into Eastern Canada. Formerly short for “East Coast Hockey League,” the expansion into areas like Boise, Idaho, Salt Lake City, Utah, and Rapid City, South Dakota, prompted the ECHL decide to identify by its acronym only. The ECHL and AHL are the only minor leagues affiliated with the NHL. The league is split into four divisions (North, South, Central, Mountain) within two conferences (Eastern and Western) and its Championship trophy is the Kelly Cup. The ECHL follows most of the rules and regulations of its two higher leagues, increasing its lineup from 17 to 18 skaters in the 2024-25 season to match the AHL and NHL. Roster size is 20, compared to 23 in the NHL. Players on ECHL rosters can have a contract with an NHL, AHL, or ECHL team. In 2019-20, the ECHL switched from five to seven minute overtime periods and instituted video review for goals in all arenas. Since 2022, four teams have joined the ECHL: the Savannah Ghost Pirates (2022-23), the Tahoe Knight Monsters and Bloomington Bison (2024-25), and the Greensboro Gargoyles will debut in 2025-26. The Newfoundland Growlers had their membership terminated in April of 2024, bringing the current number of ECHL teams to 30. A 31st team in Rio Rancho, New Mexico is set to join the league for the 2026-27 season. The Trois-Rivieres Lions, who joined the league in 2021, won their first Kelly Cup in 2025, ending a three-year streak of championships by the Florida Everblades. A full history of Kelly Cup champions can be found on page 17.

MARINERS IN THE NHL

The following players played at least one game for the Mariners, and also at least one game in the NHL:

Brandon Bussi, G (Carolina Hurricanes)

Bussi briefly played for the Mariners early on in the 2022-23 season while in the Bruins organization. He debuted with the Hurricanes in 2025-26 and burst onto the scene, becoming the first goaltender in NHL history to win 10 of his first 11 starts.

Justin Brazeau, F (Boston Bruins)

Brazeau became the first player under the current affiliation to climb the Maine to Boston ladder when he debuted for the Bruins on Feb. 19, 2024. He played for the Mariners at the start of the 2021-22 season and was an ECHL All-Star.

Sean Day, D (Tampa Bay Lightning)

Day played parts of the 2018-19 and 2019-20 seasons for the Mariners and went on to make his NHL debut with the Tampa Bay Lightning in 2021-22.

Jon Gillies, G* (Calgary Flames, St. Louis Blues, New Jersey Devils)

Gillies had already played in the NHL with the Calgary Flames before joining the Mariners for one game in the fall of 2021. He returned to the show for the Blues and Devils later that season.

Brandon Halverson, G* (New York Rangers)

Like Gillies, Halverson got into one NHL game for the Rangers before becoming a Mariner in 2018-19.

Adam Huska, G (New York Rangers)

Huska debuted for the New York Rangers in 2021-22, after appearing in 2 games for the Mariners in the Spring of 2020.

Tom McCollum, G* (Detroit Red Wings)

McCollum appeared in 3 NHL games for the Detroit Red Wings before he joined the Mariners for the 2019-20 season.

Michael Pezzetta, F (Montreal Canadiens)

Pezzetta had a brief stint for the Mariners at the beginning of 2018-19, and debuted with the Montreal Canadiens in 2021-22.

Jonathan Racine, D* (Florida Panthers)

Racine played one game for the Florida Panthers in 2013-14, six years before joining the 2019-20 Mariners.

Hannu Toivonen, G* (Boston Bruins, St. Louis Blues)

Already well known by Bruins fans when he joined the Mariners, Toivonen played for Boston and also St. Louis well before he finished his playing career in Maine in 2019.

Made NHL appearance BEFORE joining Mariners
