BACK TO IT Following a 10-day break, the South Carolina Stingrays have notched two road victories starting on Wednesday in Greenville and then on Friday night in Greensboro. South Carolina has scored eight goals since the restart from eight different players, while the Stingrays had 10 different players record points on Wednesday and had seven different skaters have points Friday.

FIRST TIME IN A LONG TIME The Stingrays and Gargoyles met for only the second time ever Friday in Greensboro which marked the first time that the Stingrays traveled to Greensboro since April 3, 2004, when South Carolina played the Greensboro Generals, in the Generals last season. The Stingrays win on Friday secured the season series over the Gargoyles after a 5-4 OTW at home on 11/28 and the 3-1 win on Friday night.

The Stingrays go for the season-series sweep today.

PK COMING TO PLAY South Carolina's penalty kill has sorted out its struggles over the past few weeks. In the month of December, the Stingrays penalty kill worked at 92%, and allowed only four power play goals across the month. South Carolina is now operating at 85.0% this season, which is seventh in the ECHL.

POWER PLAY PRODUCTION The Stingrays powerplay has become a big factor of South Carolina's success this season. SC's PP is working at a 20.8% clip, eighth best in the ECHL. At home this season, the Stingrays are 14/54 (25.9%), the fourth highest rated PP in the ECHL while at home.

STACKING AGAINST THE DIVISION The Stingrays continue a very South Division heavy schedule this season. South Carolina against the South Division this season is 16-11-1-0, while holding a 3-0 record against the North Division. 60 of South Carolina's 72 games this season are against the South Division. Friday night marked the end of a 16 game stretch against the division.
