Walleye Watch

Don't Touch It!: The Toledo Walleye took a 5-2 victory over the Kansas City Mavericks in game five of the Western Conference Finals on Saturday night at the Huntington Center. The victory gave Toledo a 4-1 series win, and punched their ticket to their third Kelly Cup Finals appearance in their last five seasons. Trenton Bliss and Matt Anderson each scored a pair of goals in the clincher. Bliss tallied the game-winning goal, while Anderson tied and then later broke the Walleye record for "most goals in a single playoff by a defenseman" as his second of the night was his sixth of the playoffs. Brandon Hawkins snapped a 12-game scoring drought, landing the empty-netter for his first goal since 4/21. Hawkins led passers with a trio of assists, as he pulls closer to the single playoff assist record (18, Hawkins & TJ Hensick, 2022). Jalen Smereck added two more helpers, while Billy Moskal, Brandon Kruse and goaltender Jan Bednar each picked an apple. Bednar took the win in net, saving 23 of 25 shots on goal.

Something New: The Toledo Walleye and the Trois-Rivieres Lions will have their first meeting ever in the 2025 Kelly Cup Finals. The two teams put a series on the ledger for next season, as the Walleye head to Canada for a three-game weekend February 20-22, 2026. Each team has a storyline heading into the first ever matchup as well. The Walleye look to shake the demons and win Toledo's first championship in 30 years, while the Lions look to win their first championship in their fifth season of existence, and just over a year after the threat of disolution.

Full Team Effort: The Toledo Walleye put up a full team effort in the 4-1 series victory over the Kansas City Mavericks. The Fish were out for revenge, as seven different skaters recorded three or more points in the series. Brandon Hawkins led the team with five points, as his four-point (1G, 3A) effort in the series-clinching Game 5 on Saturday looms large. Trenton Bliss led in scoring, tallying four goals in the series, including two goals on Saturday, one of which being the game-winner.

Marvelous Matt: Defenseman Matt Anderson has turned it up in the playoffs. The blue-liner has tallied nine points (6G, 3A) during the 2025 Run for the Kelly Cup, including a franchise record six goals by a defenseman in a single playoff. Anderson returned to the Walleye on 12/4 after being released by the AHL's Toronto Marlies. After a loan with the AHL's Utica Comets, Anderson returned to Toledo's lineup, posting 11 points (2G, 9A), 32 penalty minutes and a +14 in 27 games.

Next Level Support: The Toledo Walleye continue to pack the Huntington Center, boasting a consecutive sellout streak of 78 games. The Fish faithful took it to the next level in Game 5 of the Western Conference Finals, tying the single game attendance record not only for the playoffs, but in the Huntington Center. The crowd of 8,600 fans marked the fifth occurrence and the lone occurrence outside of the 2022 Kelly Cup playoffs. (5/3/22 vs CIN, 5/21/22 vs UTA, 6/3-4 vs FLA). The mark of 8,600 is the fifth-highest figure in Walleye history, trailing the four Winterfest games held at Fifth Third Field during the 2014-15 and 2021-22 seasons. The sellout streak spanning nearly two seasons has welcomed over 626,000 fans into the Huntington Center, averaging 8,026 fans per game and 108% capacity. The last non-sellout in the Glass City was December 3, 2023, against the lowa Heartlanders.

This Day in Toledo Hockey History: This 2024-25 edition of the Walleye is just the third team in Toledo hockey history to be playing this late in the season. Until 2022, the only Toledo hockey team to still be alive this late in the year was the 2018-19 Walleye club. Game 4 of the Kelly Cup finals that season was played at the Huntington Center and saw the Newfoundland Growlers take a 3-1 edge in the best-of-seven ECHL championship series with a 4-2 victory over the Fish. Toledo got goals from Greg Wolfe and Bryan Moore before the visitors broke a 2-all tie with two goals with less than 10 minutes remaining in regulation time. "I'm excited to see how these guys respond with their backs against the wall," Walleye coach Dan Watson said. "That urgency and desperation is going to be high. It's everything we've got." The urgency and desperation was there one day later, with the Walleyetaking a 3-2 win at the Huntington Center, forcing a Game 6 back in Newfoundland.
