IRONHAWKS CURRENTLY ON SEVEN GAME POINT STREAK

The Ironhawks are currently riding a seven-game point streak, picking up 11 of a possible 14 points during the stretch. Trenton has earned wins over Adirondack, Reading, Wheeling and Norfolk while also battling teams to overtime losses, gaining valuable experience in several tightly contested games. With the ability to stay in close games already established, the next step for the Ironhawks will be consistency as they look to continue climbing the standings.

SCORING FIRST IN EIGHT OF NINE GAMES

The Ironhawks have made a habit of getting off to fast starts, scoring the game's first goal in eight of their first nine games to open the season. Trenton has gone on to post a 4-2-2 record in those contests, demonstrating the importance of establishing an early lead. The Ironhawks have consistently found ways to set the tone early and put themselves in a position to earn points.

NURMI EXTENDS POINT STREAK

Jesse Nurmi enters tonight playing some of his best hockey of the season, recording five goals and eight points over his last six games. The forward has been a key contributor offensively for the Ironhawks, finding the back of the net on multiple occasions while continuing to generate scoring opportunities. Nurmi scored a goal and an assist in Friday's win over Wheeling. Against Norfolk, he tallied an empty netter on Saturday while added an assist on Sunday. His recent production gives the Ironhawks another important scoring option as they look to keep building momentum.

LEADING AFTER TWO IN EIGHT OF NINE GAMES

The Ironhawks have held a lead after two periods in eight of their first nine games to open the season, posting a 4-1-3 record in those contests. While the team has consistently put itself in a position to win, finding ways to close out games has been a slight challenge. The Ironhawks have shown the ability to build leads, compete with some of the top teams in the league and put together strong efforts, but learning how to finish games is the next step. As the group continues to mature, gain experience and grow together, developing the ability to protect leads and find ways to win close games will be an important part of the team's progression throughout the season.

FIRST HOME RUMBLE VERSUS READING

The Reading Royals have dropped three of their last four games and are looking to get back on track after a difficult stretch. The Royals' most recent opponent was Norfolk, falling 3-2 while managing just 20 shots on goal. Reading also suffered a 2-1 loss to Trenton and a 4-1 defeat against Kalamazoo during that stretch. The Ironhawks are 1-0-1 against the Royals so far this season, with this weekend marking Reading's first visit to CURE Insurance Arena.

2026-27 COACHING STAFF

Chuck Weber serves as the first Head Coach and Director of Hockey Operations for the Trenton Ironhawks, bringing more than two decades of coaching experience and a proven track record of success at every level of hockey. A two-time Kelly Cup champion with the Cincinnati Cyclones, Weber was named the ECHL's John Brophy Coach of the Year in 2008. He is also a championship-winning coach in the IHL and EIHL and has helped develop players and teams on the international stage.

In six seasons as an ECHL head coach, Weber has compiled a 233-167-51 record, leading his teams to the Kelly Cup Playoffs in five seasons and capturing the championship twice. Most recently, as an assistant coach, he helped Great Britain win gold at the 2024 and 2026 IIHF Division I Group A World Championships. His experience developing young talent and helping players advance through the professional ranks will be a key part of building the Ironhawks into a successful organization.

Weber's return to Trenton brings his career full circle after serving as an assistant coach with the Trenton Titans during the 2001-02 season. Excited to return to a community that holds special memories for him and his family, Weber is committed to building a competitive team on the ice while making a strong impact throughout Trenton, Mercer County and the surrounding region.

2026-27 COACHING STAFF

A passionate hockey coach and former professional player, Brett Boeing joins the Ironhawks with experience developing talent and contributing to winning cultures at every level of the game. He most recently served as Assistant Coach for the Iowa Heartlanders of the ECHL, where he worked closely with player development, personnel decisions, and day-to-day hockey operations.

Brett began his hockey career at Shattuck-St. Mary's before continuing with the Dubuque Fighting Saints of the USHL and the University of Massachusetts Amherst. He went on to play professionally in the ECHL and Europe for four seasons before transitioning into coaching. His coaching experience includes serving as a volunteer assistant with Dubuque and as an assistant coach with the Tahoe Knight Monsters before joining Iowa in 2025.

With firsthand experience as both a player and coach, Brett brings a strong understanding of player development, leadership and what it takes to succeed in competitive environments. He is excited to bring that experience to Trenton and help develop the next generation of players while contributing to the Ironhawks' success both on and off the ice.
